- * The Annual Shop with a Cop Event was held on Dec. 16, 2021 at Walmart. Several members of the Bartow Police Department partnered with Walmart staff to Christmas shop for over 30 Bartow children and their families. This collaboration with Walmart fosters a unique opportunity whereby families suffering from financial hardship interact in a positive way with law enforcement officers. The officers shop with the families to choose toys and items for Christmas and in turn the law enforcement officers enjoy the smiles and gratitude from the children which then opens the door for positive communication.

BPD Members Participate in Shop with a Cop Annual Event

One of the most rewarding community service events that the Bartow Police Department participates in has been the Annual Shop with a Cop Event. The event joins together law enforcement officers/personnel and the community they serve, specifically the children and underserved citizens. Several members of the Bartow Police Department took part in the fun by partnering with Walmart staff to go Christmas shopping for over 30 Bartow children and their families.

This program is an excellent opportunity for police and kids to share some laughs and spend some time with one another in a positive setting. It is amazing how much we can learn by listening. These kids have amazing hearts and are going to do great things in the future.

Public Safety Aide Tyrinda Pride

Chief Dorman with Santa and Reserve Officer Mike Butler

"Sometimes when we just stop for a second and enjoy quality time with our friends, neighbors, and members of the community, we can really start breaking down invisible barriers to effective communication and fellowship. Loving thy neighbor is essential to building lasting relationships and a fostering community partnership. I love being a part of this program and look forward to it every year!" - Chief Bryan Dorman.

CST Officer Nick Donnelly

Det. Bryce Riley

Reserve Officers Butler and Colburn

Det. Evan Lewis

Thank you to the Walmart Staff, Bartow Police Explorer program, Reserve Officers, and the all the members of Bartow Police Department who donated money to make this event a success!

Santa Claus himself even made an appearance! We are already looking forward to next year!

Bartow Officers Organize a Bicycle Giveaway

Captain Diaz organized a bike giveaway for the holidays and several bicycles were given to children who needed them.

As the bike giveaway was in progress, Officer Joseph, who was working a call for service, discovered a family that had just relocated to Bartow. The family had been unable to bring their beds with them. Furthermore, Officer Joseph learned that the children did not have any presents for Christmas.

Officer Joseph was able to secure two bikes from Captain Diaz's bike giveaway. In addition, Officer Joseph worked with Rusty Music from Church Service Center to get several toys for the children and was able to get an air mattress for the girls.

Officer Joseph truly represents the service side of Serve and Protect, and he does so with enthusiasm. A big shout out to Rusty Music as well!

Great job Officer Joseph!

BPD Members Participate in Christmas Door Decorating Contest

Several members of the Bartow Police Dept. decorated their office doors with festive themes for the Christmas Season.

Bartow Fire Chief Jay Robinson and Deputy Fire Chief Byron Moore made a surprise appearance to pick their favorite. After a long inspection, the judges selected Natasha Renteria's (Chief's Assistant) decorated door as their favorite.

Natasha chose the theme, "naughty or nice". There were several names of department members on the list. Of course we all know that only Santa Clause knows who is on the lists.

Thanks to all who decorated this year and a special thank you to Chief Robinson and Deputy Chief Moore!

Natasha and her Winning Door.

Bartow High School Students Work with Bartow Police CSI Unit to Get Hands-on Experience

Students in Bartow High School's forensic science class can boast that they've had hands-on experience working as crime scene investigators.

The unique opportunity was made possible by the Bartow Police Department, which recently sent two technicians (Kristina Gadd and Savannah Puls) from its CSI unit to the Bartow High campus. The BPD team brought their crime scene van and met with students to conduct labs on hair and fingerprint collection and analysis.

However, the true highlight was a surprise to students: BPD arranged a realistic mock crime scene in a room on campus, complete with volunteers playing the roles of suspects and victims. And by realistic, we mean we can't even post the photos here.

The BHS forensic science students were summoned to the "crime scene" with no warning of what they would find within.

"I wanted them to have a true experience of not knowing when a CSI would have to work a scene — to get that adrenaline rush and still have to focus on the task. The students who have a passion for crime scene investigation took to the scene like it was real, as we presented it: taking pictures, gathering evidence, taking eyewitness accounts, and working together to come up with a plausible narrative for what happened." - BHS teacher Douglas Sutton.

Sutton said the only complaints he received were from students who wanted to spend even more time simulating the gritty work of a real CSI technician.

"They're waiting with bated breath for the next 'scene' to happen so they can work with the Bartow PD team again," he said.
